

IBSscientific
ابن باويس للعلوم

ibscientific.net

IBSAC
2009

Algerian Academy of Science

The Next Chapter

19 December 2009
Wolfson College, Oxford
Linton Rd, Oxford, OX2 6UD

Time: 10.00-17.00 with registration between: 09.45-10.15

In-kind sponsors: Wolfson college, Oxford

The Program

- The Algerian University as a key actor in national and regional innovations systems.

Prof. Mohamed Saad,

*Professor of Innovation and Operations Management. Head of School of Operations and Information Management.
University of the West of England*

- A sustainable Algerian group for future challenges.

Dr Hind Saidani-Scott,

Senior Lecturer in Mechanical Engineering. University of Bristol

- Applied and not yet applied science: Is it case for building an institution.

Dr Abdelkader Essafi,

President of Ibn Badis Scientific. Investigator scientist & Beit Memorial fellow, MRC Human Genetics Unit.

- On NIH, the institution that delivered innovations (recorded).

Prof. Elias Zerhouni

*15th director of the National Institutes of Health (2002-2008). Trustee of King Abdullah University of Science and Technology.
Professor of Radiology and Biomedical Engineering, Johns Hopkins University.*

Discussion on the Algerian Academy of Science

Understanding the establishment and role of the academy, where contribution from attendees is welcome.

Conference fees: Professionals £30, Students: £15

For registration, full program or further information:

ibscientific.net

ibsac2009@ibscientific.net

Algerian Academy
of SCIENCES, Technology & Arts
الأكاديمية الجزائرية للعلوم، التكنولوجيا و الفنون

For directions, please call the college's porter on 01865274100.